

Red Dress POWWOW

3rd Annual MMEIP Traditional Pow Wow

Honouring Our Missing, Murdered, and Exploited Indigenous Peoples Through Song, Dance, and Community

Special Honouring Ceremony in recognition of our distinguished Guest: Josie Nepinak

President, Native Women's Association of Canada

A proud Anishinaabe woman from Treaty Four with over 30 years of executive leadership advocating for Indigenous women and families. Josie has participated in regional, provincial, national, and international tables to elevate the issues of Indigenous women. She dedicates her work to elevating the voices of those silenced by systemic barriers - through advocacy, awareness, and collaboration.

Red Dress Powwow 2026 - Honoured Guests

Cindy Woodhouse Nepinak
National Chief, Assembly of First Nations

The youngest woman and first mother to hold the office of National Chief, Cindy Woodhouse Nepinak is a proud member of Pinaymootang First Nation in Treaty 2 Territory. A recognized advocate at all levels of government and the United Nations, she focuses on Treaty rights, self-determination, and the well-being of First Nations. Named one of Canada's most influential Canadians by Maclean's magazine in 2025.

Susan Aglukark
Multiple Juno Award-Winning Inuk Singer-Songwriter, Officer of the Order of Canada

A celebrated Inuk singer-songwriter whose music blends Inuit traditions with contemporary storytelling, Susan Aglukark is the first Inuk artist to win a Juno Award. An Officer of the Order of Canada, she uses her voice to uplift Indigenous communities and inspire resilience through song.

Jeremy Farkas
The Mayor of Calgary

Calgary's 38th mayor, elected in 2025 after serving as Ward 11 City Councillor and contributing to public service through his work in municipal governance, nonprofit leadership, and community advocacy.

SCAN ME
for more info

Friday, May 8, 2026

Doors Open 5 PM
Grand Entry 6 PM
Ends 10 PM

 The Big Four, Roadhouse
1410 Olympic Way SE

Thank you to our sponsors

